

contents

acknowledgments	xi
introduction	xiii
1. loss and grief as amazing grace	1
how can grief be a grace?	2
where is GOD when I grieve?	5
why is it so difficult to feel GOD's presence?	6
do faith-filled persons feel abandoned by GOD?	7
2. kinds of loss and grief	11
what does loss look like?	12
what are the different kinds of loss?	13
what makes a death loss especially painful?	16
what is the most difficult loss to endure?	18

3. understanding loss and grief	21
how common is grief? when is it abnormal?	22
how can I better understand my own loss and grief?	25
how can it be normal to feel so crazy?	27
what can I do about my feelings of anxiety and anger?	28
4. reactions to loss and grief	35
why do others avoid me?	36
what is happening to me during my grief?	38
how can myths about loss be harmful?	41
how does loss affect family relationships?	45
5. resolving loss and grief	49
how can I help myself to feel better?	50
how can bad advice hurt me?	54
are there things I must do to recover from loss and grief?	55
when is the pain of loss and grief over?	57
what if I can't get "over" my loss?	59

6. living in faith with loss and grief	63
what basic truth is GOD trying to reveal to me?	64
how does forgiveness affect my own recovery?	66
how do I pray when I can't pray?	68
what might my living faith look like now?	71
how can loss be an empowering experience?	74
7. helps for healing loss and grief	77
what practical things must I attend to?	78
what role might my physician play?	80
how helpful are counselors and support groups?	82
how can books and other publications be helpful?	83
conclusion	93
selected bibliography	99