

Reverend Cynthia Hale's New Book Helps Women Claim God's Best

Valley Forge, PA—Rev. Dr. Cynthia L. Hale is founder and senior pastor of the 5,000-member Ray of Hope Christian Church in Decatur, Georgia. Recognized as a woman of vision, she has been honored locally, nationally, and internationally for her leadership, integrity, and compassion. Now, she uses her life experiences as the foundation for her new book, I'm a Piece of Work! Sisters Shaped by God.

I'm a Piece of Work! is a book for and about women—women who are struggling to discover:

- Who we are
- What God has designed and desired us to be
- How to pursue that dream of divine destiny

This collection of poetry, reflections, and Scripture will help women realize and celebrate our uniqueness, acknowledge without shame our issues and challenges, and receive healing and forgiveness. I'm a Piece of Work! Sisters Shaped by God takes women on a journey from brokenness to wholeness. It is a book designed to help women affirm themselves and to claim God's best.

About the Author: In addition to serving as pastor of The Ray of Hope Christian Church, Rev. Dr. Hale also serves on various boards in her denomination and in the Atlanta area, as well as being co-chair of the Samuel DeWitt Proctor Conference. Inducted into the Martin Luther King's Board of Preachers of Morehouse College, Dr. Hale was also selected to give the opening invocation at the 2008 Democratic National Convention.

From the Prologue: "There comes a time when we realize that others cannot define us because who we are is much more than they could ever imagine....No one has the right to define us but God. After all, God designed us....Yes, we are a piece of work--created in the image of the Most High God."
