Welcome the Newest Addition to the Best-selling "Work of" Series

The Work of the Chaplain is the ideal starting point for all—including seminarians—who are exploring a call to minister outside the walls of the church. Unlike most other books in this field which are specific to one form of chaplaincy and are often written from an autobiographical viewpoint only, this new resource meets a critical need for an introductory and overview look at chaplaincy in general. Topics include:

- A concise history and biblical basis for chaplaincy ministry, and a look at what makes this ministry unique
- Direction in the integral areas of accountability, privacy, personal ethics, and spiritual assessment
- Advice on health and empowerment to ensure chaplains take care of themselves while caring for others
- Specific guidance for the often unique areas in which chaplains are called to minister, including:
 - Multireligious settings
 - Military
 - First responder
 - Hospice/healthcare
 - Workplace
 - Correctional facility/prison
 - Crisis intervention/Disaster relief
 - Law Enforcement
 - Campus
 - And more!

About the Authors

Naomi Kohatsu Paget is a board certified chaplain with the Association of Professional Chaplains and crisis interventionist for the FBI, Southern Baptist Disaster Relief, and American Red Cross. She is the author of Disaster Relief Chaplaincy (North American Mission Board) and also has broad chaplain experience in the workplace, parish, healthcare, community, and law enforcement arenas.

Janet Rae McCormack is a board certified chaplain with the Association of Professional Chaplains and an American Baptist Churches USA minister. She serves as director of the Chaplaincy and Counseling Training Centers, and is assistant professor of Chaplaincy and Pastoral Counseling at Denver Seminary. A retired Air Force chaplain, she has extensive experience in military, hospital, police, prison, NASCAR, crisis, trauma, and industrial chaplaincy.
